

WHEREAS, in 2003, Simmons became the founding executive director of the Nashville Alliance for Public Education, now known as the Nashville Public Education Foundation (NPEF); and

WHEREAS, at NPEF's 2022 Public Schools Hall of Fame event, they posthumously honored Simmons with the Nelson C. Andrews Distinguished Service Award in recognition of her incredible career and service to the people and schools of Nashville; and

WHEREAS, in 2007 and 2008, Simmons served as Special Assistant to the Director of Metro Nashville Public Schools; and

WHEREAS, from 2009 to 2012, Simmons represented District 9 on Metro Nashville's Board of Education; and

WHEREAS, Simmons was an active volunteer and served on many government and nonprofit boards and commissions including The LandTrust for Tennessee, Greenways for Nashville, Metro's Greenways and Open Space Commission, the International Storytelling Center, the Maddox Charitable Fund, the Adventure Science Center, Metro Parks and Recreation, Metro Historical Commission, and accreditation committees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; and

WHEREAS, Simmons was a dedicated neighborhood leader and chaired the Cultural and Natural Resources Committee of the City of Forest Hills, identifying ways to improve the appearance of roadways and public spaces, and monitoring the maintenance and preservation of the City's parks and green spaces, stone walls, and cemeteries; and

WHEREAS, Simmons was a resident of the Richland - West End Neighborhood for three decades and her initiatives helped build a close-knit community among neighbors and a safe place for children to play by hosting block parties, turning the neighborhood into "Halloween Central" with pumpkin displays, and single-handedly stopping speeding drivers; and

WHEREAS, she was a long-time active parishioner of Christ Church Cathedral, the Cathedral Parish of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee, where she served on the vestry and various committees; and

WHEREAS, Simmons was known to be an accomplished reader, cook, a consummate professional, and an exemplary mother, wife, grandmother, sister, and daughter who will be dearly missed by many friends and family; and

WHEREAS, it is fitting and proper that the Metropolitan Council honors the life of Kay Louise Snyder Simmons and recognizes her many years of service to Nashville's community.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE METROPOLITAN GOVERNMENT OF NASHVILLE AND DAVIDSON COUNTY:

Section 1. The Metropolitan Council hereby goes on record as honoring the life and service of Kay Louise Snyder Simmons.

Section 2. This Resolution shall take effect from and after its adoption, the welfare of the Metropolitan Government of Nashville and Davidson County requiring it.
