Analysis

This ordinance adds the honorary designation of "David McMurry Way" for a portion of Woodruff Street between Gallatin Pike and Madison Station Boulevard. Mr. McMurry was an active member of the Nashville community known for his community service, activism, and advocacy. He was especially active in the Madison community and was also a vocal LGBTQ activist and advocate.

Section 13.08.025 of the Metro Code provides a procedure for the designation of honorary street signs whereby the Council, by ordinance, can authorize and direct the Department of Public Works to install two honorary street signs per street - at each end of a street - beneath the official street name sign for any street identified on the official Street and Alley Centerline Layer map. No honorary street sign can be installed honoring a living person; and each member of council can sponsor only one such ordinance each calendar year. This ordinance does not officially re-name the designated street. Therefore, there would be no change of official address for properties along this portion of Woodruff Street.
